SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—The State Fair Congress, under the auspices of the California State Fair Association, convened at the Academy of Sciences building today. Prof. George V. Davis was elected as chairman, followed by an address of welcome from Prof. Frederick J. Campbell, the promoters and others of the American Steel Company, who were present. The convention adjourned till 2:30 o'clock p.m.

BAD FISHING SEASON.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

PORTLAND (Or.), May 14.—The prospects for anything but a very poor salmon season are not bright, and can-ner men are feeling rather gloomy. Very few salmon are being taken at any place on the river. The rise in the river has been so rapid that water is too high for fishing. One cannery and J. J. Johnson of Idaho, the convention adjourned till 2:30 o'clock p.m.

SHRIMPS ALSO IN DANGER.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Superior Judge Carroll Cook handed down an important decision today on the application of Con Ming, a Chinese shrimp fisherman, to be released from the Chinese Immigrant Bondage Committee. The Chinese was arrested for a violation of section 62 of the Penal Code, which makes it a misdemeanor under all manner of circumstances to attempt to capture shrimp during the months of May, June, July and Aug. Attestor Riordan, for the petitioners, contended that the Chinese was invalid, inasmuch as its title emended an amendment to three other sections of the code. Judge Cook seems to accept the new law and indicated that the amendment to the code are, therefore, invalid. In order, however, that the question may be passed upon by the Supreme Court, he remanded the prisoner.

LUCK GETS A FIRST LOOK.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

SAN JOSE, May 14.—The following special from the Lick Observatory was received by the Mercury tonight:

LICK OBSERVATORY, May 14.—The comet of the week, discovered by Mr. Long, the President's party will arrive here Saturday morning.

Long, the Governor of Massachusetts, on April 24, was seen here tonight. In the strong twilight no tail could be seen, only the head of the comet. Its position, observed by him at 8:30 a.m., was Right ascension 5 hours 23 minutes, declination 3 degrees 37 minutes.

This is the first time the comet has been seen at the observatory.

The comet is much fainter than when discovered, and will not be visible here without a telescope.

NEW WHATCOM (Wash.) May 14.—Peter Larson of Helena, Montana, and Eastern Railway, has purchased for his company 10,000 acres of timber lands lying in Whatcom and Skagit counties owned by ex-Secretary R. A. Alger and associates. The consideration is said to be $150,000.

Larson's representatives announced that the Bellingham Bay and Eastern Railway will be extended into the holdings to a connection with the line already there.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

SEKANIA (Wash.) May 14.—Dispatches to the Speakerman-Review from Republic say:

"A placer strike on Granite Creek, two miles west of Republic, has thrown the camp into an intense fever of excitement. Hundreds of men and many women have left the town of the strike today and there have started up little creeks for a distance of twelve miles from its mouth.

An important strike of gold silver ore is reported from the new camp of Meteor on the south half of the valley reservation, about ninety miles northwest off Spokane."

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Arrangements have been concluded for the picnic of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, to be held Saturday, May 19, at the hall in Fernbrook Park, Niles Canyon, Thursday, May 25. All of the thirty-one local lodges of Workmen, the two local lodges of the Degree of Honor, those of Alameda, Contra Costa, and Santa Clara counties, and the Grand Lodge degree were invited to make this one of the greatest fraternal gatherings that has been held in this state.

BOTH KILL THEMSELVES.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

TACOMA (Wash.) May 14.—A special from Everett, Wash., says that John Fay, employed by the Seattle Bridge Company at Laconia, Wash., represented an 18-year-old boy for the police. His feelings so deeply that he stole out of the room, secured a gun and shot himself in the head. Hearing the report, the father hastened to the scene, and seeing his son dead, and the evidence of death, he picked up the weapon and blew out his own brains.

munition ran out. Jumping up, he ran for his life, but was felled by a bullet from Ellingsworth. The bullet, and a pair of handcuffs is the Sheriff's back pocket, which rendered him unconscious, although not seriously injured.

Ellingsworth, probably believing him dead, secured blankets and provisions and left. He was trailed twelve miles, later returning to the scene, and bound bound for Redding, when the trail was lost in the wild mountain regions.

"I have been in being able to take care of myself," said Miss Bates, "and would advise every young woman to learn a little of the art of self-defense, to avoid attracting any women to yourself, to avoid taking a train of brutes, and to be as safe as you can." "Now, I did not do that, she continued, "but I am not sure that if a man had come to see me, I would have been able to put up a good fight. For it takes a pretty woman to strike back, and I think that when you persist in doing so, the professor, I suppose, might have caught me, and let my right arm be pretty muscular, if I do say so myself."

"Now," she continued, "what a woman needs to do is to act like a man, to act like a man, and not be afraid, when she does not know how to use her hands. If she does not know how to use her hands, she will do the most good for herself, and when she persists in doing so, the professor, I suppose, might have caught me, and let my right arm be pretty muscular, if I do say so myself."

THE LATEST.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—At an early meeting this morning, Secretary Cortelyou said that the state government could be made in reference to the President's future plans. All was contingent on Mrs. McKinley's condition. It could not be determined until later in the day whether the President would participate in today's functions in this city.

Mrs. McKinley, Secretary Cortelyou added, was passing a comfortable night. The President appreciates the popular anxiety as to the completion of his trip, and hopes to be able soon to make a definite announcement concerning it.

Dinner was served at the Hotel涉谷.

After the announcement of a Committee on Credentials, consisting of John Lamont of Oregon, E. N. Head of California, A. T. Vanderveen of Washington, and W. W. Brewster of Connecticut, and J. J. Johnson of Idaho, the convention adjourned till 2:30 o'clock p.m.

IN FERRY BUILDING.

Cabinet review the final parade, before their departure, and arranged for it to start at 9 o'clock, but the Cabinet reluctantly decided that their schedule could not be broken.

The people here believed that the train would not leave until 10 o'clock, and when the carnival managers gave a signal this morning that the official activities would be delayed, they realized that some of the handmades floats to the depot to give the party an opportunity to see them, and the main building, as well as two lines of house-decked floats.

The floral parade was the finest ever seen here, far eclipsing the parade of 1896. There were over thirty floats in line, and in favor of the floats and dealers, they realized the highest artistic ideals. Long before the starting hour the streets were thronged with the number of people in lower belt, rough, estimated at thirty thousand. Co. B acted as an escort, and there were many handmades decorated private turnouts. This afternoon there were blood and automobile races at the park, and in the evening an illuminated parade and illustrated band concert. The festivities will close tomorrow.

AT STANFORD UNIVERSITY.

THE PRESIDENT WAS ABSENT.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

PALO ALTO, May 14.—President McKinley telephoned to Secretary Hay this morning that he would not leave San Francisco until 10 o'clock, and arranged for the party to arrive here for the visit to the Leland Stanford University.

Among the members of the party that morning the prevailing opinion was that Mrs. McKinley's condition would necessitate the complete abandonment of the trip beyond San Francisco.

There was great disappointment here because of the President's absence, but the programme as arranged was carried out. The members of the Cabinet attended, and were driving about the University, a mile from the museum. At the museum, President McKinley was to have planted two fir trees on his absence and Secretary and Mrs. Hay each threw a shovelful of earth on the trees. The party proceeded under the direction of Mr. Hamlet, who had arranged for the Quadrangle, baskets of flowers were emptied into the carriage from aloft.

The grand nave of the ferry building had been transformed with flowers, bunting and colored lights arranged in tasteful design. Throughout the length of the big hall the steel arches were illuminated with incandescent lamps, while along the walls semi-circles of lamps glowed with the same colors. The President's stand was draped in bunting, the front was studded with pink carnations, the President's favorite flower, interspersed with white carnations, the sides with white, and blue, white and blue lights, while along the walls semi-circles of lamps glowed with the same colors. THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR.

The changes recently made in the internal-revenue law will take effect on the first day. While these changes are sweeping in character, they will have a considerable effect upon business. The Review shows for May contains a column of some of the more important of the laws, from which the details are obtained.

Bottled spirits will contain 40 per gallon. On fermenting tax, it is $1.00 per barrel, increased by one pound, will be allowed, which is 20 per cent, which is 1.8 cents. Cigars are reduced by 40 per thousand, while a 10-cent cigar tax is reduced from $1.00.

Gov. Gees of Oregon arrived in San Francisco yesterday. He will probably accompany the Presidential party on the northern trip, if the trip is not abandoned.

There was great disappointment at Stanford University because of the absence of the President. Secretary Hay represented the President, and the programme as arranged was carried out. The members of the Cabinet entered carriages and were driven to the university, a mile from the railway station. It had been arranged that the President should plant two big trees, one on each side of the entrance to the museum. In his absence, Secretary and Mrs. Hay each threw a shovelful of earth on the trees.

Gov. Nash of Ohio will be present with his staff and all the visiting Congressmen at the commencement exercises at Berkeley today.

HEREDITY OR ENVIRONMENT?

The telegraph has noted how a young boy whom Helen Gould had taken to her own home, with the intention of giving him a start in life, has thrown away all the fine possibilities opening before him, by running away from the home of his benefactors, after trying to induce another boy to decamp with him. Similar cases of ingratitude are often recorded, and innumerable cases that are not recorded have come under the observation of nearly every observing person.

Instances of the kind above referred to seem to support the contention that heredity, rather than environment, is the most potent factor in determining the character of a child. The question is, is old one, and will probably never be determined to the satisfaction of all the disputants. But the beautiful theory that an infant of even the worst parents, if surrounded from earliest infancy with good influences, would certainly grow up to be a good and useful citizen as would one of excellent parentage under like conditions, is constantly receiving knockout blows in the actual experience of everyday life.

LEAF FROM KIPLING.

Back in the eighties Rudyard Kipling spent a day or two in the city of Buffalo, and wrote about it afterward as follows:

"Buffalo is a large village of a quarter of a million inhabitants, situated on the seashore, which is falsely called Lake Erie. . . . One clear of the main business streets, you launch upon miles and miles of asphalted roads running between colonized and stone houses—houses of those who have money and peace. When you have seen the outside of a few hundred thousand of these homes and the insides of a few score, you begin to understand why the American does not take a deep interest in what they call 'politics,' and why he is so unconcerned with the general progress of the country that enables him to be so comfortable. How can the owner of a dainty chateau, with smoked-oak furniture, imitation Venetian tapestry curtains, hot and cold water laid on, a bed of geraniums and hollyhocks, a baby crawling down the veranda, and the house news fragrant and redolent of roses, orange blossoms and raw petroleum—a blend that can't be imitated anywhere—everywhere the subscriber went, The Times was sure to go. When the numbers ran us down, sometimes in packs of two weeks—fourteen newspaper thoroughbreds—we took off the newspaper and laid the paper in rows to dry, and, when they were dry, we had a place to pick up a living as a buzzard that flies through Death Valley."

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—IN THE OFFICES AND COURTS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

There has been no abatement of the oil nuisance, and the Council is preparing to take summary action for the suppression of what is termed an outrage.

The Mayor yesterday issued a proclamation to the people of the city relative to the collection of money to aid the sufferers by the big Jacksonville fire.

At the meeting of the Police Commission yesterday the force was formally commended for the splendid record of Fiesta week.

A compromise has been effected in all of the three contests against the will of the late Mrs. Josephine Thompson of Azusa.

Frank D. Crandall, acquitted last year of the murder of Jack Bowman at La Bolla in September, 1897, was denied a divorce from his wife, Amanda, yesterday.

The will of Charles L. Ennis, late assistant Superintendent of City Schools, was filed for probate yesterday.

All papers will, if desired, be wrapped and ready for mailing. Papers do not include postage.

INTERNAL REVENUE TAX. The changes recently made in the internal-revenue laws will take effect on the first day. While these changes may sweeping in character, have a considerable effect upon business. The Revenue laws for May contain a number of some of the more important in the law, from which the following are obtained:

Distilled spirits will continue $10 per gallon. On farm products the tax is $1.00 per barrel, or $1.00 per pound, will be allowed.

Tobacco, which has been reduced to 50 cents a pound, will be allowed.

Cigars are reduced 50 cents a thousand, while what is called "mixture" must pay 1 cent per thousand.

A Goldberg was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of hitting another tailor with a goos during an argument over business affairs.

AT THE CITY HALL

NO CESSION OF THE OIL NUISANCE.

COUNCIL PREPARED TO TAKE SUMMARY ACTION.

Visit to the Oil Section Discloses Black Fluid Running Over the Sidewalks and Down the Streets Without Let or Hindrance.

If you are about the City Hall next Monday you may hear something drop with a dull, dull thud. The guillotine has been sharpened and the operator is ready. The subject will be supplied by the oil men.

During the winter storms a little cloud appeared upon the horizon of the men who operate wells in the northwestern section of the city. The cloud grew until the whole sky was overcast. Already there have been one or two showers, but the thunder, the lightning and the rain scheduled to break forth next Monday.

It is not against the oil men as a class that the maladies of the citizens are hurled, but against those who, in the face of a welfare protest, continue to violate the oil ordinance and trample under foot the orders of the Mayor, the Council and the people.

Believing that the citizens of Los Angeles are desirous of helping the suffering and needy, I have this day appointed the following as a committee to see that the same reach the Jacksonville authorities:

"W. E. Brown, D.D.; John F. Frazer, J. C. H. Montague, A. B. C. C., A. E. Pomeroy, J. R. Toberman, Prof. Melville Doster, George W. Parsons and J. B. Irving, Jr."

"M. F. SNYDER, Mayor."

In appointing the committee, Mayor Snyder made Dr. W. E. F. Frazer, the irresponsible men cast a shadow over the industry here. It is carried on close to the streets.

The second and principal reason is that Oil Inspector Hamilton has been willfully neglecting his duty.

Time and time again the Councilmen who are responsible for the selection of the oil inspector have urged him to do his duty.

Meantime the Council will pass an ordinance or order the Oil Inspector to enforce the present law which prohibits running oil on the streets or sidewalks, and into the sewers.

WHY NUISANCE HANGS ON.

Two reasons have contributed to this situation. In the first place the large oil men are unable to control the smaller operators, with the result that the irresponsible men cast a shadow over the industry here. It is carried on close to the streets.

When the officers do well I think they are acclaimed just as easily as they should be published when they break the rules," said Mr. Thorpe. "If we are strict in one way we should be aggressive in the other."

Another ordinance, differing only in minor details from the one now in force, will be passed by the Council on Monday. If the programme is not discontinued, an additional executive instruction will be given the oil inspector to enforce it as long as it remains on the statute books. If he longer persists in his duty, the chief of the guillotine can roll his official head into the municipal basket.

SHAMEFUL CONDITIONS.

Yesterday the Oil Inspector and his deputy, Deputy City Engineer Walbrecht, Councilman Bowen and a number of men visited the field. What they saw there filled Mr. Bowen with indignation.

Along the line of Lake Shore boulevard water and oil were running in a stream of oil and water, which was well just a few feet back from the curb-line, was pumping steadily and half of that black, sticky stream of petroleum actually running directly from the pump into the sidewalk and into the street.

When the Oil Inspector was shown this patent violation of the law he said

"That pump needs a little packing."

Others of the party were of the opinion that the owner represented the oil company.

"I am sure that the oil will be sent away, and the oil men will not hesitate to say so."

"Not fifteen yards away another well was changing drainage, and it pumped a thousand barrels of water per month.

"The water was splattered, splattered down the sides of a bank upon the new sidewalk on Lake Shore boulevard. From there it found its way into the sidewalk and down the street. The stream apparently came from a leaky tank.

On Colton street a stream of water and oil was running in a stream of water, which was just a few feet back from the curb-line, was pumping steadily and half of that black, sticky stream of petroleum actually running directly from the pump into the sidewalk and into the street.

SAN BERNARDINO'S QUEEN ENTHRONED.

Street Fair Opens in a Blaze of Light and Color—Town Agog and Full of Visitors.

THE first street fair held in the city of San Bernardino was formally opened last evening under auspicious circumstances. The business section of the city was a veritable mass of color and light, with lights of all kinds, from thousands of electric lights being particularly brilliant. Third street, the principal business thoroughfare, from F street east to C, is lined with booths, while thousands of flags and banners float in the breeze, the national colors being prominently displayed with those of the Fiesta red, white and orange, the effect being amazingly beautiful. Almost as elaborate work has been done on the cross streets, E and F, and when the lights were turned on the picturesqueness of the alternative colors, the effect was superb. The town is already full of visitors, and they are only commencing to come.

The festivities opened with the corbon in the fair colors. The Queen was crowned by two little girls. She conferred the honor of knighthood on the city officials who read the Queen's proclamation.

The city and fair officials appeared on the throne, and the golden hall! It devolves upon me as the presiding officer of the guardians of this fair imperial city of San Bernardino, to welcome you and your splendid court to it. Through the strength and breadth of its streets are avenue the works of public buildings, your freedom extends. If there be anything you desire, command, and the willing hand is yours. May measure and joy walk with you.

C. M. Hanf has a unique booth, setting forth to good advantage the order of his business.

Holiday Bros. have a large and cloudless skies and balm breezes prevail, not only of your board, of the president and officers and street fair and carnival, but of all my loyal and faithful subjects. I gratefully accept this key, and will long remember all connected with this great affair.

SOME OF THE BOOTHS.

Brief reference to some of the more pretentious booths erected by local business firms and societies, and other organizations follow, no reference being made to the scores of pretty booths and stands that have been built or constructed for strictly business purposes.

The largest booth of the fair is the Pythian castle. It is in imitation of stone with arched windows and towers, and the spacious interior will be devoted to the entertainment of visiting Knights of Pythias and their lady friends.

The San Bernardino Electric Light Company has an elaborate display opposite the Stewart Hotel entrance. It will include a reception booth, while there is a large open space where at one end is built a fire place and a stone chimney, which carries the smoke from an old-fashioned fireplace, where the Daughters of Rebekah and Morse Encampment and Token Lodge have a large and ornate booth. The prevailing colors being pink and green, the colors of the order.

The Daughters of Rebekah and Morse Encampment and Token Lodge have a large and ornate booth, the prevailing colors being pink and green, the colors of the order.

One of the prettiest reception booths on Third street is that of Liepcis and Israel. It is gotten up wholly on the Japanese style with rare artistic effects.

C. M. Hanf has a unique booth, setting forth to good advantage the order of his business.

Franz & Crawford have a large and handsomely decorated booth, where refreshments are served.

Barton & Catch have a novel and attractive booth.

A large street booth has been fitted up a large and handsomely-furnished booth, the decorations being in Fiesta colors and royal purple.

George H. Hall's booth beautifully decorated with draped paper.

W. M. Bramhall has a large and attractive booth, a portion of which is fitted up in a room.

L. M. Bean has a booth in the style of a Japanese pagoda.

E. C. Peck has a booth gotten up in the form of a cabin.

Gordon Kendall has a pretty reception booth.

Court street stands the long cabin occupied by the society of pioneers.

It is one of the best features of the fair, and is a great attraction of interest. At one end is built a fire place and a stone chimney, which carries the smoke from an old-fashioned fireplace, where the Daughters of Rebekah and Morse Encampment and Token Lodge have a large and ornate booth.

On D street is the Midway, where there is a fine array of shows to choose from. Near by looms up the big tent of the Agricultural and Industrial District Fair exhibit will be formally opened.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS.

President Hanford of the City Board of Trustees has issued a proclamation in which he says that the street fair will bring thousands of people, and it will also bring scores of crooks, and he deems it his duty to officially call attention to the picture.

FINANCIAL.

BOND BUYING. The treasury has about $60,000,000 worth of bonds for buying began.

CRIPPLE CREEK GOLD. The total gold at Cripple Creek since 1889 was opened in 1889 is estimated at $100,000,000.

WHEATED OATS HIGHER. A rise is reported in rolled oats.

BUTTER CORN. The price of future butter corn has been fixed at 85 cents a bushel in a jobbing way, for standard grades. Spot corn is still higher.

EGGARS. There are three granulated sugar on the market. The ordinary "fruit" granulated sugar and the "berry" granulated in a matter of fineness, there being no grade, none so fine as powdered.

STANDARD OIL PROFITS. More than 20 million barrels of petroleum are consumed in this country, the Standard Oil Trust, which owns the output, thus advancing the price of the product 8 cents and realizing the next little sum of $27,000,000 to make a division of the capital.

Can anyone fairly claim that it is not the result of the efforts of the people of the country to do without, made by a powerful corporation, which is the Standard Oil Trust? And further, can it fairly be claimed that it is neither fair nor right for the government to exercise a stranglehold over the oil market to the great and capacity of these immense leviathans?

These questions are the soberly considered by the people of the country, the coming to know what it is that these enormous and gigantic corporations have allowed to have a hand to carry on the work of the world.

They will not long for an answer and if they did not then where they could not get it, to turn their inquiry to the overwhelming influence of the oil trust, and the coming to know how it is that these enormous and gigantic corporations have allowed to have a hand to carry on the work of the world.

They will not always get just what they demand, when they come to the oil trust, but he gets it in the end, and that, in most cases of greater importance. We hope all our friends and neighbors will find it to their interest to carry a stock of their leading supplies of the urgent needs of life and leather goods.

THE WOMEN'S CLUB MOVEMENT

XIII.—WOMEN'S CLUBS AND PUBLIC MOVEMENTS.

By Mrs. Eliza M. Henrich, ex-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

THE primary purpose of the women's clubs entirely precludes the possibility that they should become in any sense of the term, political associations. The clubs have been greatly successful in interfering in political questions or taking any action in which State or national partisan issues were involved. They have recognized that the members were representative of all shades of political beliefs and of all social classes and political lines. The numerous civic and sociological activities now conducted under the auspices of the clubs have been undertaken through a sense of duty and have been entirely nonpartisan.

The clubs are growing slowly while a power of association, but once awakened to a consciousness of the opportunity which concerned action gave them, they were not slow in putting it into practice by entering on a semi-public career.

The educational work of the Maine federation has aroused interest all over the State in school sanitation, and has spent in two years over $600,000 in decorating model schools.

The Louisiana federation was organized in 1890, and is now working on civic lines.

The Shreveport Woman's Club is erecting a public fountain.

The Woman's Club of New Orleans is trying to clean up the streets, and the Civic Club of Philadelphia.

The last-named club is an example of what a disinterested, intelligent body of women can accomplish for the advancement of a community.

All over the country club movement is spreading in cities, in towns and in farming communities, and it is impossible to overestimate the educational value of the clubs.

The work of the clubs in education lies in supporting kindergartens until the school boards of their localities were sufficiently advanced to take them into the public schools.

A woman's club in Tennessee is a factor in the public movement of a pioneer community.

The club of Hartman, Tenn., round the sidewalk of the town in a deplorable condition, and when not in use, was a receptacle for refuse.

At the suggestion of the club members, a park was built, and the club members have rebuilt them.

The club has offered a prize for best kept temperance and health plan for waste paper in all the public buildings.

The president of the federation of Oklahoma Territory and Indian Territory reports that the woman is a great factor in the public movement of a pioneer community.

TAKING UP OTHER QUESTIONS.

In the large cities it was not difficult to enter public life through the door of education. The initial step being taken, it was only a question of time when all public interests of the members of the clubs were taken care of.

The attempt to solve education problems brought the members face to face with others equally interested, and the result was a realization of the fact that a person must be conversant with the difficulties with which settlers in new or outlying States have to contend.

WORK AMONG MOUNTAIN WOMEN.

The movement has its counterpart in the "town and country" clubs of Minnesota, Missouri and Kansas; also in the "summer camps" under the auspices of the Kentucky federation.

Conductor WILSON of the "Electric Flyer" team, who has made a千里走单骑 to the passenger train on the Goos River branch of a certain great western railway, was called upon one morning to apologize in behalf of his engineer, and his apology, from end to end, including stops and slow-downs, as the saying goes, was not entirely devoid of entertainment features.

"The truth of the matter is," said he addressing the principal kicker, a traveling salesman from Milwaukee, "that there's only one man on earth who understands the teakettle that we use in place of a real locomotive on this branch line."

The conductor, who had been waiting for him to come along, said, "Bill knows her from the track up. He gives her a pat here and a jab there, and she settles down to her paces like a well-trained horse."

Bill, however, was not so easily put off as he had expected, and after a few moments he was confined amending the factory law, having on his mind the public-house reform, helping to secure public parks and playgrounds, in a word, their interest soon brought him into the public eye.

Even the clubs in the smaller towns and villages have found a wide scope for practical effort. They have simple organizations, but have the courage to criticize the members of school boards, the aldermen or the mayor.

The members must use great tact when suggesting changes, and often the town officers are family connections of some one member and the criticism does not meet with a favorable reception.

The women's club of Chattanooga has introduced the weaving of carpets into the mountain districts, furnishing artistic designs and providing a market for the products.

The club of Central Kentucky held last summer an exhibit of the home industries of the country. It opened a market for the sale of some of the curios and specialties of some one member and the criticism was not so easily met.

The Milwaukee club has organized a campaign for the improvement of the conditions of both city and rural schools, and many and country women are active in this work.

CITY WOMEN AND COUNTRY WOMEN.

The club and its interests are proving a bond of union between the city women and the country women.

Women's welfare is promoted by active cooperation; that they must work together to secure educational advantages, literary facilities and a broader social life.

In the past the town and country have joined together, as they had done in the case of the factories, which are pressing these seemingly separate interests in the annual meeting of each club.

The Women's Club of Central Kentucky held last summer an exhibit of the home industries of the country. It opened a market for the sale of some of the curios and specialties of some one member and the criticism was not so easily met.

The Massachusetts federation held an important exhibit last April in Boston.

The club of the Standard Oil Company, the American sugar, etc., is obvious enough that it is no longer sugar and alcohol in the tax in the end."

It has been estimated that it will reduce the government by some $10,000,000 if it is in force. It is not known, that even with this reduction there will be a very slight at the end of the fiscal year in any of it. Truly, the only solution that can reduce it is by so large an amount in a without sufficient income that a thing would not be in any other nation in the world.

PANAS PROSPERITY.

The Atchison (Kansas) Globe says that "this is the marvel Northern Kansas." And the words enthusiastic, not said, over the glories of the country outside known as the "Grandfather State." I

They made that exposition an object of study while it was in process of construction, attended the various fairs and carnivals, and their own communities to the benefit and pleasure to be derived from a visit to the exposition. When there was a crowd, he got to the Paris Exposition, every person in the federation petitioned asking that the more women commissioners be appointed and the larger number named. Also when it was doubtful if women would be named on the jury of award of the Paris Exposition, the federation presented a petition to the commissioner-general urging him to give his influence to obtain the appointment of women on the jury.

The legislative committee of the National federation has obtained a bill for the protection of children on coast vessels and inland waterways. The federation of the District of Columbia during the first year of its organization secured the first model legislation of the laws which affect the legal status of women. As the district contains the nation's capital, it failed to pass an important effect on the legal status of women in all the States to have the district laws adopted to those effected by the most advanced and liberal public opinion. The committee, having in charge the consideration of the bills, were well received that they went into the Senate and House committees and were so well received that they went into the next year and obtained the adoption of the bill, the largest bill in the public-school system of the district.

The legislative committee of the National federation has obtained the passage of a bill through the Legislature, placing women physicians in all medical societies where women and children are held; also in the medical schools.

The State federation of Maryland is seconding the admirable efforts of the geological and agricultural college in endeavoring to secure legislation in favor of good roads.

The State federation of Illinois is association, but once awakened to a consciousness of the opportunity which concerned action gave them, they were not slow in putting it into practice by entering on a semi-public career.

Committee on Consolidation of Two Cities to Meet—Addition to Police Force—Dr. McBride to Talk of Brain Grown—Misionary Convention.

PASADENA. New Office of the City Council, Room 28, South Raymond avenue, will be ready for occupancy next week. Mayor Weight and his members of the council, pursuant to an agreement reached at the regular meeting of the body today, met at the office of C. C. Reynolds, where they conferred informally on the best method to pursue to settle the difficulties which have arisen between the executive and the legislative branches of the city government.

The meeting was held behind closed doors and it was thought not advisable to publicize the proceedings, but it is understood that the entire discussion on the construction of certain parts of the city charter will be harmonious.

The result of the conference, it is said, was to have the city attorney, C. J. Willett, to be named for City Attorney J. Edwards for Street Supervisor.

In meeting this morning the council consented to Mayor Weight's request to postpone his appointment to the vacant office and rescinded his action of a week ago, agreeing to the adjournment of a board of arbitration, to be decided by Mr. Weight, to adopt any recommendations of the committee.

Mr. Weight and his colleagues, said he desired, to have the officers appointed, and should these gentlemen attempt to serve he said it would be necessary for him to take legal action.

Mr. Weight said he could do better than to stick to his recommendations of Messrs. Gibbs, Brown and Allis for the respective positions.

The Council did not make any decision on the matter, and he said he understood that any other recommendations would be considered.

Mr. Weight, in a telephone conversation with Dr. E. Peasefield, chairman of the nomination committee, said he had no objection to the nomination of either of the two men for the positions.

He said the Council if it so desired, could nominate the two men for the positions, and he agreed to meet the Council in attendance on Thursday to discuss the matter.

It was taken to Thursday for a final solution of the matter.

HOTEL EXCUSE TRAIL.

The changes recently made in the internal-revenue tax effect on the first day. While these changes are sweeping in character, have a considerable effect upon business. The Revenue laws for May contain a committee of the more important of the law, from which the same are obtained:

Distilled spirits will contain 10 per gallon. On fermentable tobacco, which has been raised a pound, will be allowed a 10 cent. Cigars are reduced 10 per thousand to $2. A cigar thousand, while a cheaper class is reduced to 10¢. Osmangardine and silk, if of domestic origin, one pound, and if imported, while what is called "new" must pay 1 cent per domestic product—these being levied not so much as in the interest of safety, and to protect against unlabeled food in what is known as "mixing of 4 cents per barrel is to secure government in proper labeling. The tax, such as on bank on the 3-cent tax on telegrams on July 1, although still to be paid on drafts and documents. A small tax will be on the issue and transfer taxes of stock, and the like. Estates tax on legacies, arranged on progressive scale, remains large establishments engaged in petroleum or sugar must pay one-fourth of 1 per their gross receipts in excess of $500,000. This is an amount of tax, says the journal, to "evidently" insure the title of the Standard Oil and the American angle. It is obvious enough that it who are super and heroes the tax in the end."

It has been estimated that it will reduce the government by some $10,000,000. It is not a tax, that even with this reduction there will be a very great amount of the same. Truly, and nothing that troubles it by so large an amount in without saying incurs a thing would not be in any other nation in the world.

HOW SMITH GOT LOST.

Postmaster-General Delayed Presidential Procession by Trying to Find the Los Angeles Postoffice.

Postmaster-General Charles Emory Smith was made the target of a joke during the visit of the Presidential party to this city last week. On Thursday morning the Cabinet officially entered the city, and the Postmaster-General followed, having a drive around the city. Postmaster Smith was nowhere to be found when the start was about to be made from the Van Nuys Hotel. Committee men looked for him in his room, in the breakfast-room, parlors, cafe, lobby, barbershop, every other conceivable part of the hotel where he might have been loitering, but the Postmaster-General could not be found.

The rest of the party entered the carriages and started off, and still Smith did not appear. Henry T. Scott, head of the band of searchers, and at last gave up the hunt for the Postmaster-General.
